

In a significant observation many time UN contributor & international observer Professor Hans Koechler said "9/11 may have been an insider's job" in response to a question from one of the delegates attending his lecture The 'Global War on Terror - Contradictions of an Imperial Strategy' last night at the Trades Hall in Auckland.

"I am not a boy-I am 59. There are many inconsistencies and inaccuracies in the official version of events. Those who could not handle a Cessna pulled off 9/11," he said.

TVNL Comment: "May have been?" The evidence is overwhelming that it was and the evidence backing the official story is virtually non-existent.

More...